INTRODUCTORY.

JERSEY CITY, Feb. 13, 1886.

MY DEAR MR. WOODWARD:

In reply to your request that I, as an old Saratogian, should tell you what I know of the late Henry Wagman, whose collection you are about to offer for sale, I would say:

Henry Wagman came of good old New England stock. His grandparents removed to the borders of Fish Creek (the outlet of Lake Saratoga) previous to the Revolutionary war; and often have they related to their grandson — when, as a boy, he sat on a winter's night in the old farmhouse while the flames went roaring up the huge chimney, and the fire-light merrily played among the flitches of bacon hanging from the smoked rafters overhead — the adventures and sufferings endured by the early settlers.

Growing up under such surroundings, it is not surprising that young Wagman imbibed, at an early age, a taste for everything connected not only with the early settlement of the country, but with the invading army of Gen. Burgoyne, and, living but a few miles from the route taken by the latter, he was enabled to pick up many articles left in the track of both armies. This search for Indian and Revolutionary relics and natural curiosities finally became with Mr. Wagman an absorbing passion; and, while not neglecting the fine farm which he had inherited from his parents, he would spend days and weeks in adding to his collection. Neither trouble nor expense was spared by him in this pursuit. Did he hear one day of some curious Indian relic, the next morning before daybreak found him behind a good horse speeding after it as keen as a hound on the scent! and rarely did he return home without having secured the object of his expedition.

The fame of this virtuoso's collection at length attained more than a local celebrity — so much so, indeed, that, in the summer of 1879, meeting the late Gov. Horatio Seymour in Saratoga, the latter asked if I would not go out with him and see the "Wagman Collection." Accordingly, the following day Gov. Seymour, Gen. Charles K. Graham (at that time Surveyor of the Port of New York), Col. Ritchie, then editor of the Saratogian, and myself, drove out to Mr. Wagman's farm, and spent two hours very delightfully in viewing the collection — Gov. Seymour, especially, appearing pleased and scrutinizing each object with manifest curiosity and interest.

I have been at some pains to state the circumstances under which this collection was gathered, in order that the public may be assured that the Revolutionary articles here catalogued are not — like those so often gathered on the field of Waterloo — manufactured to catch the money of the enthusiast, but, on the contrary, are genuine, having been either found or gathered by Mr. Wagman himself.

Of the value of that portion of the collection relating to the stone and copper age, the reader can judge for himself. Many articles in it are positively unique. Of such are the remarkable pestle with the carved animal's head, and the collection of tubes or whistles. Indeed, the kidney-shaped ceremonial whistle, and the one with eight sides are, so far as I am aware, the only ones of their kind known. So, too, with other articles which are excellent types of the kind they serve to illustrate. In my opinion, the collector who neglects this opportunity of adding to his cabinet, will make a serious mistake.

I am Dear Sir,

Cordially Yours,

WILLIAM L. STONE.

Mr. W. Elliot Woodward.

CATALOGUE.

ARCHAEOLOGY.

THE WAGMAN COLLECTION.

1 Large Indian Stone Mortar, found at Greenfield, Saratoga County. Nearly circular, with shallow concavity. Diameter 14 inches. The stone is of most remarkable formation; apparently a series of concentric bowls one within another.

2 Pestle from Lake George. One end a well carved animal's head, the opposite end rounded by use; extremely rare; broken, but substantially repaired; 24 inches long; diameter 2 inches. The most remarkable pestle I have ever met with from the Northern States.

NOTE.—This entire collection of long Pestles is from New York State; nearly all from Saratoga or Lake George.

3 Long Pestle, symmetrical and very fine. Saratoga county. 21 x 2 inches.

4 Long Pestle, symmetrical; ends evenly rounded; largest in middle. Saratoga county; very fine. 17x2½ inches.

5 Long Pestle, split. 14 inches.

6 Long Pestle, broken. Saratoga county. 8 inches.

7 Rude Celt. Saratoga county. 5 x 2 inches.

8 Large Round Pestle, split, flattened, and one end tapering.

9 Semi-Cylindrical Long Pestle. 16 x 2 inches.

10 Nodule of red hematite; very fine.

11 Long Pestle, flattened and slightly curved at the end. 19 x 2½ inches.

12 Long Pestle; broken, nearly square. 13 x 2 inches.

13 Long Pestle; one end broken. 10 x 2 inches.

14 Long Pestle; a little split at both ends. 17 x 2 inches.

15 Large and Fine Flat Axe or Chisel. Saratoga county. One of the finest objects of its class I have ever met with. 9 x 3½ inches.

16 Long Pestle; sides a little flattened. 11 x 2½ inches.

17 Round Pestle; very ancient. 9 x 2 inches.

18 Short Pestle. 8 x 2 inches.

19 Long Pestle; chisel-shaped. 7 x 2 inches.

20 Gouge. Saratoga county; good. 6 x 2½ inches.

21 Fragment of an immense Soapstone Dish, found at Lake George. Originally held two barrels. 5 x 7 inches.

22 Fragment of an immense Soapstone Dish, like the last. 5 x 6 inches.

23 Another fragment, with one of the ears or handles of the vessel, and a bag containing a great number of fragments from the same.

23 Flat Pestle, or Muller; fine. 5 x 2 inches.

24 Pestle; fragmentary. Saratoga county. 6 x 2 inches.

25 Slate Gouge; edge broken. 5 x 2 inches.

26 Adze-Gouge of Sandstone. Saratoga county; fine. 7 x 2 inches.

27 Round Pestle of red jasper. Lake Saratoga. Rare material. 5 x 2 inches.

28 Rude Celt. 5 x 2 inches.

The prehistoric relics contained in the Wagman collection with scarcely an exception were found in different localities in Saratoga county; mostly from the vicinity of the Lake and of Lake George. The exceptions only will be noted.

29 Gouge of blue porphyry. 5 x 2½ inches.

30 Long Pestle; symmetrical, ends rounded. 14 x 1½ inches.

31 Long Pestle; one end square; diameter unusually large in proportion. 15 x 3 inches.

32 Long Pestle; flat on one side. 17 x 3 inches.

33 Round Pestle; nearly square. 13 x 2½ inches.

34 Long Pestle: one end wedge-shaped.

35 Long Pestle; approaching triangular; both ends rounded. 13 x 3 inches.

36 Long Pestle; one end perforated apparently for suspension: in that respect very unusual. 12 x 2½ inches.

37 Long Pestle, flattened; one end split. 16 x 3 inches.

38 Long pestle, nearly square, with many incised lines; whether by design or accident I cannot say. 10 x 3 in.

39 Long Pestle; slate; end broken. 10 x 2 inches.
40 Long Pestle, Celt form: one end thin. 10 x 2½ inches.
41 Long Pestle, chisel-shaped at one end. 12 x 1½ inches.
42 Sandstone Gouge; edge chipped, otherwise fine. 6 x 2 inches.
43 Gouge; fine. 5½ x 2 inches.
44 Gouge of brown jasper. 5 x 2 inches.
45 Adze-Gouge of close grained sandstone. 5½ x 2 inches.
46 Slatestone Gouge. 4 x 2 inches.
47 Small Gouge; very fine. 3 x 2 inches.
48 Dark Stone Gouge, with flaring edge; very fine and rare form. 6½ x 2 inches.
49 Gouge; slightly concave and head pointed. 5 x 2 inches.
50 Adze-Gouge; small size for this implement. 5 x 1½ inches.
51 Gouge of nearly black stone; fine. 5½ x 2 inches.
52 Gouge of Metamorphic Stone; edge slightly chipped, otherwise remarkably fine. 7 x 2 inches.
53 Gouge, extra large size: edge slightly chipped, still very fine. 9½ x 2½ inches.
54 Gouge, very ancient; edge broken. 5½ x 2 inches.
55 Gouge; originally very fine; a little chipped. 7 x 2 inches.
56 Adze-Gouge; but little concaved. 5 x 1½ inches.
57 Adze-Gouge; small size. 4½ x 2 inches.
58 Sandstone Gouge; head broken. 5 x 2½ inches.
59 Gouge of Light Sandstone: edge chipped, but fine form and finish. 6 x 2 inches.
60 Gouge or Skinner; one side nearly flat. 6½ x 2½ inches.
61 Large Gouge; broad and only slightly concave. 6½ x 2½ inches.
62 Extra Large Gouge, highly finished: in part polished; but for a trifling imperfection of the edge it would be the finest gouge I have ever seen.
63 Adze-Gouge, of light granite. 7 x 2 inches.
64 Gouge; slightly concave; granite. 5 x 2 inches.
65 Gouge; light granite. 3½ x 2½ inches.
66 Adze-Gouge; broad and thin. 6¾ x 2½ inches.
67 Small Gouge; broken.
68 Gouge: fine but broken.
69 Small Gouge: broken. 3 x 2 inches.
70 Adze-Gouge; edge broken. 7 x 1½ inches.

71 Gouge; edge broken. 4 x 2 inches.
72 Adze-Gouge; fine. 7 x 1½ inches.
73 Adze-Gouge; fine. 7½ x 2 inches.
74 Adze-Gouge; very little concaved, but fine. 5 x 1½ in.
75 Nearly Flat Gouge; good. 5½ x 2 inches.
76 Rude Celt. 6½ x 3 inches.
77 Light Fint Celt; fine. 4 x 2 inches.
78 Handsome Celt. 3½ x 2 inches.
79 Polished Celt; rare and fine. 3½ x 1½ inches.
80 Celt; fine, with end broken. 2½ x 2½ inches.
81 Large Celt; very fine indeed. 6½ x 2½ inches.
82 Large Elliptical Knife, of jasper. 7½ x 2 inches.
83 Gouge; fine. 4 x 2 inches.
84 Adze-Gouge; edge worn, but fine. 5 x 1¾ inches.
85 Celt of nearly black stone; handsome shape and polished; rare. 6 x 2 inches.
86 Polished Celt; fine, scarce. 5½ x 1½ inches.
87 Celt; fine. 5½ x 1½ inches.
88 Celt of brown jasper, polished. 4½ x 2 inches.
89 Thin Rude Celt. 5 x 2 inches.
90 Celt. Shows marks of use; very good. 4½ x 2½ inches.
91 Fine polished Celt; rare. 6 x 2 inches.
92 Polished Celt. 4½ x 2½ inches.
93 Long Thin Celt. 7 x 2½ inches.
94 Celt; one side flat; fine. 4¾ x 1¾ inches.
95 Celt; good. 4 x 2 inches.
96 Celt, with expanding edge; brown jasper; good. 4 x 2 inches.
97 Celt; polished edge. Irregular but fine. 6 x 2 inches.
98 Celt; narrow, of dark brown stone like jasper, polished, and very fine. 8½ x 1¼ inches.
99 Celt; polished, one side flat; slightly concaved. 5 x 2 inches.
100 Celt; polished and fine. 3¾ x 2 inches.
101 Polished Celt; very fine. 5½ x 2 inches.
102 Rude Celt, grooved; flat. 4 x 2 inches.
103 Thin Flat Rude Celt. 5 x 2 inches.
104 Curved Celt of Metamorphic Slate, a most unusual form; fine. 5½ x 1½ inches.
105 Celt. 6 x 2½ inches.

106 Gouge; bottom of the concavity flat. 4½ x 2 inches.

107 Celt; variegated stone, resembling verd antique. Polished; rare. 2 x 1½ inches.

108 Rude Celt. 3 x 2 inches.

109 Grooved Axe, uncommonly good. 5½ x 4 inches.

110 Grooved Axe; large; broken and repaired. 9 x 4½ in.

111 Grooved Axe; one face chipped. 5 x 3 inches.

112 Grooved Axe of remarkable form; shape not unlike a pocket flask; top very small, and high ridge around the groove; fine, and a most rare form. 3½ x 3 in.

113 Grooved Axe. 5½ x 3½ inches.

114 Small Pestle or Muller. 6 x 2 inches.

115 Triangular implement of unknown use; may be a muller. 6 x 2 inches.

116 Long Flint Knife or Spear Head. 6½ x 2 inches.

117 Heart Stone; one side covered with incised lines, resembles the back of a tortoise; taken from the breast of an Indian skeleton found in a cave in Texas. This object, highly prized, is held among the Indians to be a symbol of bravery; fine and rare. 4½ x 4½ in.

118 Large Slate Knife; or it may be an agricultural implement; fine. 7 x 3 inches.

119 Fine Large Arrow Head of brown jasper. 5 x 2 inches.

120 Long Oval Hammer stone; from Fish Creek; outlet of Saratoga Lake; fine. 6 x 3½ inches.

121 Large Knife. 6½ x 3 inches.

122 Celt, with very sharp edge. 3 x 1½ inches.

123 Bird-shaped Amulet, Washington county, New York. Body expanded, the head has prominent projecting ears or eyes. The amulet is one of the rarest forms of archaeological stone objects, and this sample is one of the most remarkable I have ever met with, being perfect. Metamorphic slate. 4 x 1½ inches.

124 Amulet; from the same locality as the last; same material, but differs in form; tail broken; the beak imperfect from an original defect; very fine and desirable. 3½ x 2 inches.

125 Fine Celt of small size. 3 x 1½ inches.

126 Banner Stone, semi-lunar; shaped much like a pair of horns. Metamorphic slate of graceful form and artistic workmanship. One of the finest objects of its class I have ever seen. Ridge on one side parallel to the perforation. From Glen's Falls. 5½ x 1 inch.

127 Banner Stone; perforation regularly and slightly tapering; form nearly semi-circular; fine; very rare, as the banner stone always is. 4½ x 2 inches.

128 Banner Stone; almost semi-circular. Saratoga Lake. Called by Mr. Wagman a ceremonial stone; fine. 4 x 1½ inches.

129 Banner Stone of hard, light, granitic stone; the usual perforation commenced and about half finished; uncommon form and material, and particularly rare on account of its size. 7 x 2½ inches.

130 Banner Stone; flat and nearly square; one face covered with marks; a modern addition. 2½ x 2½ inches.

131 Banner Stones of fine workmanship; fragmentary. 2 pieces.

132 Polished Pendant, with one small perforation; very fine. 4½ x 1¾ inches.

133 Gorget; oblong, ends rounded, one narrow; has some fine marks, probably without significance. 3½ x 2 in.

134 Pendant; long triangular sandstone. 3½ x 1¼ inches.

135 Long Pendant. Fort Edward. 4 x 2 inches.

136 Broad Gorget of red slate, scratched with numerous marks, which appear to be ancient; one end of celt-like sharpness; fine. 3½ x 2½ inches.

137 Octagonal Tube. Called by Mr. Wagman a whistle. Gives three distinct sounds; symmetrical and finely finished; rare. 4 x 1¾ x 1¼ inches.

138 Pipe; conical, with perforated handle at one side; fine. The pipe is always a rarity, and another of this variety is perhaps unknown. 2½ x 1¾ inches.

139 Fine Polished Soapstone Pipe; stem flat, with 14 tally marks on each side. Picked up at Fish Creek, outlet of Lake Saratoga. Very fine and rare. 3½ x ⅞ in.

140 Unknown Implement of Purple Slate; tapers from the top; rectangular; straight edges. 7½ x 1¼ inches.

141 Grooved Instrument; perhaps an arrow polisher; sandstone. 5 x 1½ inches.

142 Curved Instrument; perhaps a Celt; end broken. 4 x 1½ inches.

143 Rhomboidal Hammer-shaped Stone, of the precise form used in stone and brick laying; fine. 5½ x 2 inches.

144 Conical Muller or Polisher; very fine. 2 x ⅞ inches.

145 Semi-Ovate Muller; purple jasper interspersed with light-colored stone; very fine. 1¾ x 1¼ inches.

146 Perforated Sinker; flattened oval; material like the last: fine. 2 x 1½ inches.

147 Large circular perforated stone, called by Mr. Wagman a game stone. Probably really a sinker. Found at Quaker Springs, Saratoga County; diameter nearly 7 inches.

NOTE. The following collection of Spear Heads and Arrow Points, like the pre-histories described, are all from the State of New York, mostly from Saratoga and Washington Counties.

148 Large Spear Point, edge serrated; fine. 6 x 1½ inches.

149 Spear Head; brown jasper; fine. 5¼ x 1½ inches.

150 Spear Head; fine. 5 x 1½ inches.

151 Spear Head, of red slate. 5 x 1½ inches.

152 Skinning Knife, of chalcedony; fine. 5 x 2 inches.

153 Spear Head; broad, deeply notched, fine. 5 x 2 inches.

154 Large Knife, of quartzite; fine. 5 x 2½ inches.

155 Spear Head; narrow base. 4 x 1¼ inches.

156 Spear Head; broad base. 4 x 1½ inches.

157 Rude Slate Spear Head. 4 x 1½ inches.

158 Spear Head; square base. 4½ x 1½ inches.

159 Spear Head. 4 x 1½ inches.

160 Spear Head; hollowed base; very fine. 3½ x 1½ inches.

161 Spear Head; rounded base. 3½ x 1½ inches.

162 Spear Head; curved and rotary. 4 x 1½ inches.

163 Spear Head; square base, deeply notched. 3½ x 1½ in.

164 Spear Head; rotary. 3½ x 1½ inches.

165 Slate Spear Head. 3½ x 1 inch.

166 Narrow Spear Head of red slate. 4 x 1 inch.

167 Arrow Point of chalcedony: scarce. 3¼ x 1¼ inches.

168 Spear Head; narrow base; fine. 3½ x 1 inch.

169 Spear Head; slate. 3½ x 1¼ inches.

170 Small Spear Head. 3 x 1 inch.

171 Spear Head; brown jasper, curved base; fine. 3¼ x 1¼ inches.

172 Narrow Fish Spear; straight; narrow base. 3½ x 1¾ in.

173 Shield-shaped Spear Head; base curved and indented. 3 x 1½ inches.

174 Spear Head; barbed with indented base: fine. 3 x 1¼ inches.

175 Small Slate Spear Head. 3¼ x 1¼ inches.

176 Triangular Spear Head; broad, rounded base. 3¼ x 1½ inches.
177 Semi-Elliptical Knife. 3½ x 2 inches.
178 Spear Head; irregular form; fine. 2½ x 2 inches.
179 Semi-Elliptical Knife. 3½ x 2 inches.
180 Slate Spear Head, with broad base. 3½ x 1½ inches.
181 Large Knife. 5 x 2½ inches.
182 Knife. 3 x 1½ inches.
183 Spear Head; irregular form. 2½ x 1½ inches.
184 Spear Head; knife shaped. 5 x 1½ inches.
185 Spear Head; notched hollowed base. 3½ x 1¼ inches.
186 Spear Points; mostly large. 9 pieces.
187 Spear Points; good lot. 10 pieces.
188 Spear Points; medium size; good lot. 11 pieces.
189 Spear and Arrow Points; fine lot. 33 pieces.
190 Arrow Points; fine lot; medium size. 34 pieces.
191 Another lot equally good. 28 pieces.
192 Another fine lot; mostly small. 48 pieces.
193 Arrow Points; small; extra fine lot. 56 pieces.
194 Arrow Points; small and medium; fine. 32 pieces.
195 Similar lot; equally fine. 34 pieces.
196 Small Arrow Points; fine lot. 56 pieces.
197 Another fine lot. 36 pieces.
198 Arrow Points; fine lot. 42 pieces.
199 Arrow Heads, Spear Points and Knives; some defective; many good. 64 pieces.
200 Fish Spears; fine lot. 8 pieces.
201 Drills; mostly fine. The drill is a rare implement to find perfect in Eastern States. 6 pieces.
202 A Triangular Charm; worn by a priest or medicine man.
203 A Curious Fossil. Called by Mr. Wagman "an Indian washboard." 12 x 11 inches.

COPPER IMPLEMENTS, ETC.

203*a* Axe; hammered from native copper; found at Glen's Falls, N. Y.; extremely rare. 4½ x 2½ inches.
203*b* Spear Head, or Knife; elliptical, pointed; prehistoric; from native copper; very rare indeed. 6 x 1¼ in.

203*c* Combined Spear Head and Bodkin; Glen's Falls, N.Y.; of extra nice finish; extremely rare, like all American prehistoric copper implements. 6½ x ⅞ inch.

204 Indian Pottery found at Lake George. 29 pcs.

205 Buckskin Tobacco Pouch, ornamented with split and dyed quills. 15 x 3 in.

226 A Gun found on the field after the Custer fight at Little Big Horn, after the fire had burnt off the grass. An old pattern, Smith's Patent; the stock partially destroyed by the fire. Length 3 ft. 4 in.

REVOLUTION.

227 A Chest formerly owned by Gen. Burgoyne, and brought by him to this country early in 1777, and captured at his surrender in October of that year. Hand-made, including the iron fittings. A substantial piece of furniture, and to all appearance good for another century. A most interesting historical relic, and its authenticity unquestionable; pine, stained or painted. Length 49 in., width 18 in., height 19 in., widens toward the bottom. Formerly the property of Captain Ward of General Schuyler's body-guard, and at his death left to his son Daniel Ward, and purchased six years ago from him by Mr. Wagman.

227*a* Door of the Hospital at Bemis Heights battle-ground, Saratoga. Size about 7 ft. by 4 ft. This hospital was used for the wounded of the battle of Saratoga.

228 Ancient Powder-horn carried in Revolution; of large size; fine.

229 A tooth of Lovelace, the Tory, taken on the Wagman farm and hanged at Schuylerville.
